

Uploading Videos to YouTube Instructions:

1. Sign up to YouTube

To sign up to YouTube click the 'sign in' button in the top right corner. Then click the 'create an account' on the top right corner on the next page.

Next fill in the required information.

A screenshot of the Google Account creation page. At the top, there is a Google logo and a 'Sign in' button. Below this, the heading 'Create a new Google Account' is displayed. On the left, there are three images: a collection of Google services icons, a smartphone displaying various apps, and a person holding a sign that says 'Paul Schlatter'. On the right, there is a form titled 'Your Google Account is more than just YouTube.' with sections for 'Your Google Account is more than just YouTube.', 'Take it all with you.', and 'Share a little. Or share a lot.' The form includes fields for 'Name' (First and Last), 'Choose a Google username' (with a suggestion '@gmail.com'), 'Create a password', 'Confirm your password', 'Birthday' (Month, Day, Year), 'Gender' (I am...), 'Mobile phone' (+61), and 'Your current email address'. A large red arrow points from the right towards the form.

Then your profile will appear.

Here you have the opportunity to add a profile picture.

Your profile

Now that you have a Google Account, create your Google profile. It's how you represent yourself publicly on the web, and helps friends and family find each other easily. Your profile also lets you publicly "+1" things you love on the web, so you and your friends benefit from each other's impeccable taste – in search results, on sites across the web, even on ads. Your profile is public, and can include as little as your name, or as much as you feel like adding – it's up to you. About profiles.

Put a face to your name

Your profile is public, and can include as little as your name, or as much as you feel like adding. Upload a photo to better express yourself. Want some ideas? Check out this video.

Next step

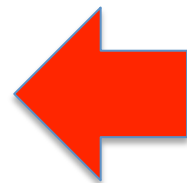

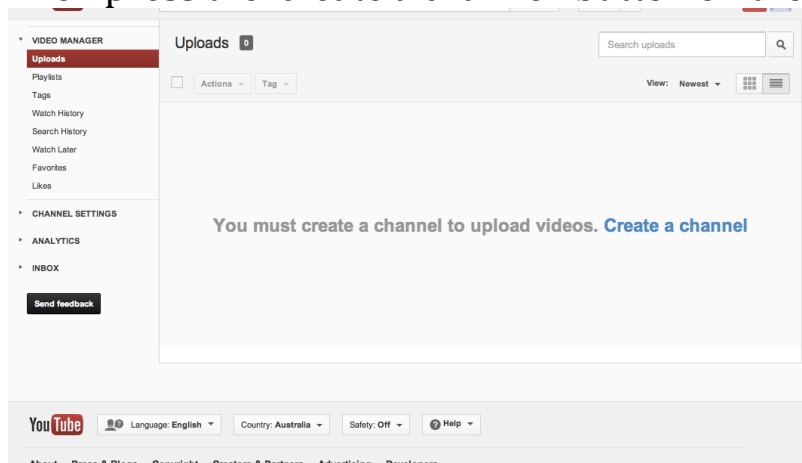

2. Up loading a video and creating a channel

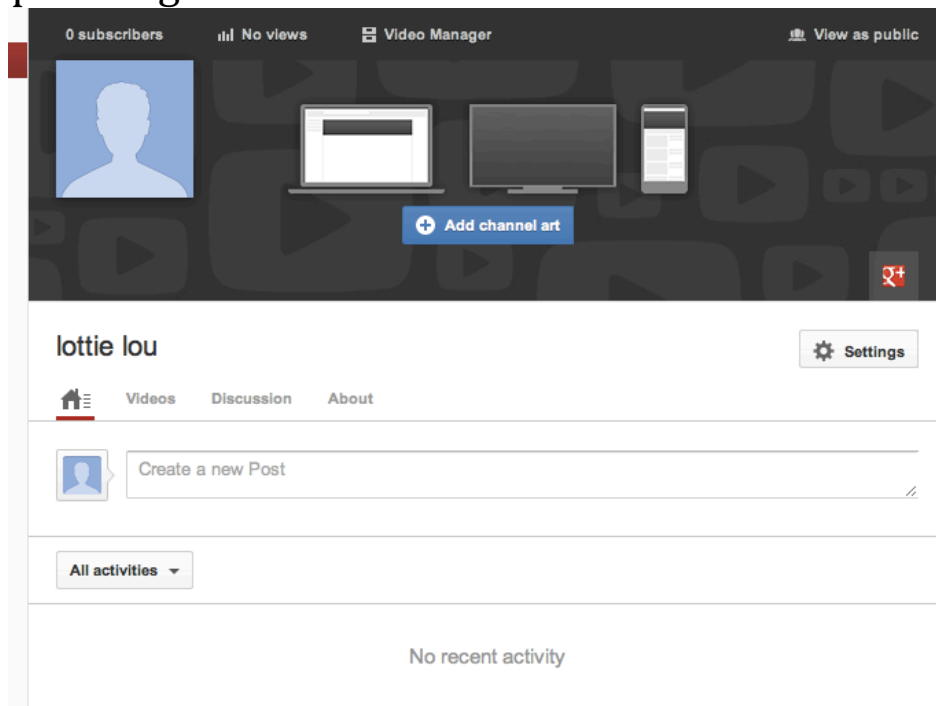

First click the down arrow on the 'upload' button and choose the video option.

Then press the 'create a channel' button on the next page.

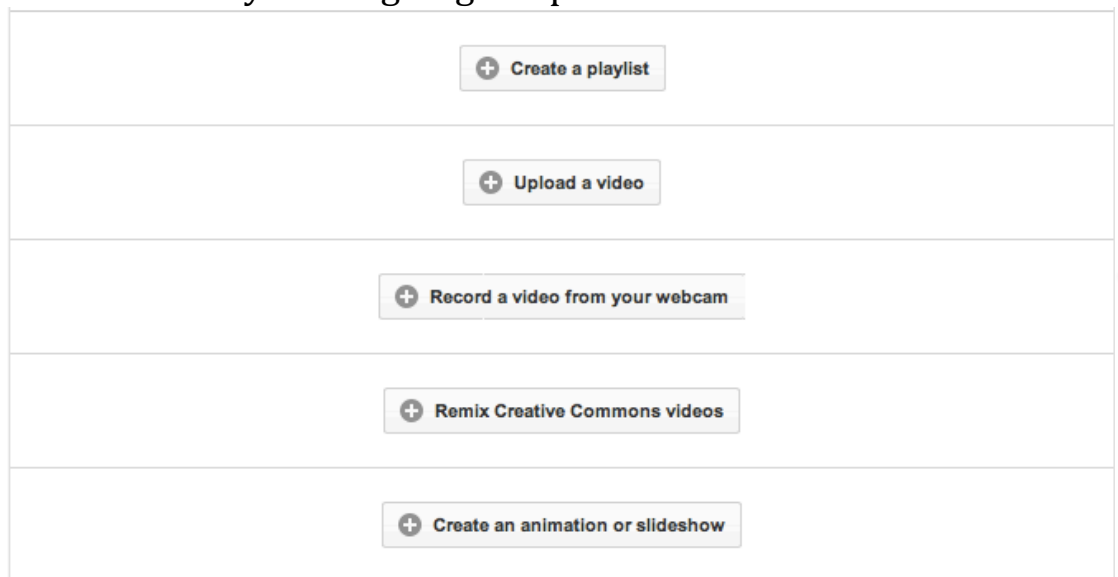

3. Uploading a video to YouTube.

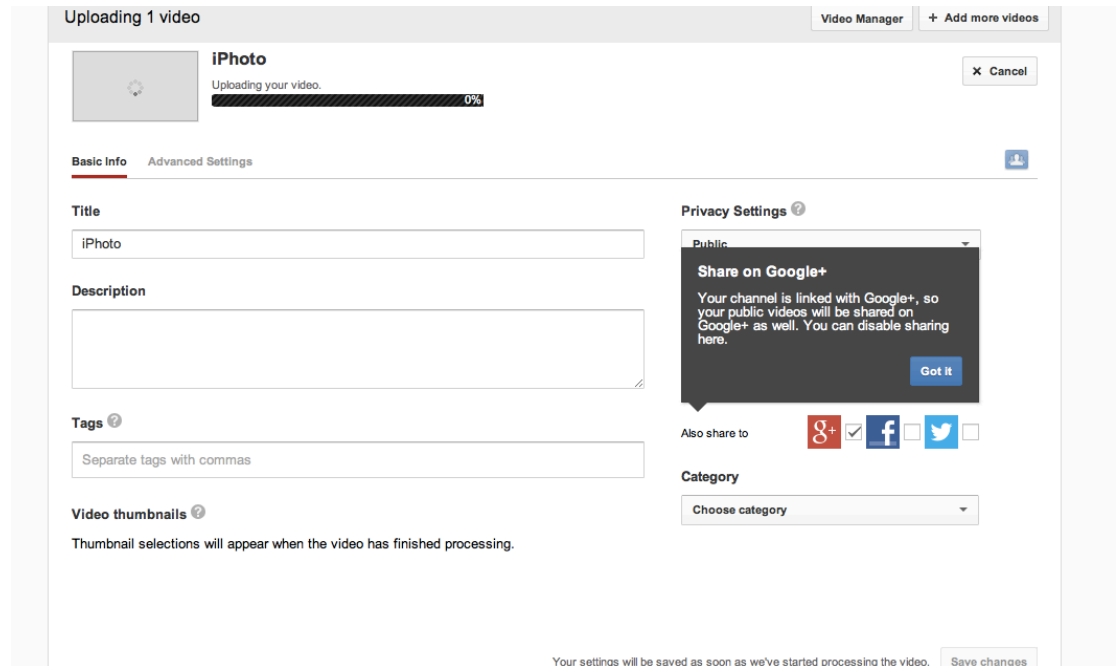

Click the 'videos' tab next to house button to upload a video.

Choose where you are going to upload the video from.

Next follow the instructions on how to upload each video. Each option for the above will have different instructions for how to upload, depending if you are recording it or choosing one that has been pre recorded.

5. Details.

The screenshot shows the 'Uploading 1 video' interface. At the top, there's a progress bar for 'iPhoto' at 0%. Below this are two tabs: 'Basic Info' (selected) and 'Advanced Settings'. The 'Basic Info' section includes fields for 'Title' (filled with 'iPhoto'), 'Description' (empty), 'Tags' (with a placeholder 'Separate tags with commas'), and 'Video thumbnails' (with a note that selections appear after processing). To the right, the 'Privacy Settings' dropdown is set to 'Public'. A 'Share on Google+' dialog box is open, stating that the channel is linked with Google+ and public videos will be shared. Below this, 'Also share to' options for Google+, Facebook, and Twitter are shown, with Google+ checked. A 'Category' dropdown is set to 'Choose category'. At the bottom right, a 'Save changes' button is visible. A footer note states: 'Your settings will be saved as soon as we've started processing the video.'

Add the details of your video so that the views know, along with a brief description then upload.
